Visiting your Representative and Senator

Tuesday morning is the best day of the week to meet with legislators. They have fewer committee meetings on that morning than on other days of the week. It's best to call ahead and make an appointment, and the appointed time may have to conflict with a scheduled workshop. The main reason we want to meet with our legislators is to establish a cordial contact with them and to thank them for the good homeschool law we enjoy. A typical visit will last five or ten minutes.
